The perfect woman is not one who has a beautiful face or a model body, she is simply one who accepts herself as she is, who is not afraid of the adversities of life, that for me is much more attractive, and it is the type of woman I am looking for to be my partner, she should only have a good heart, be humble, with beautiful feelings and who can be loyal to me. Honesty, good communication and trust also play an important role in a relationship
